To successfully respond and recover from real-world incidents, such as cyber attacks, your organization must prepare far before the attack itself.

We work with your company through preparation, planning and testing so that your company can have confidence in your employees and management’s incident response success.

Is Your Company Ready for an Incident?

To successfully respond and recover from real-world incidents, such as cyber attacks, your organization must prepare far before the attack itself.

We work with your company through preparation, planning and testing so that your company can have confidence in your employees and management’s incident response success.

Our Incident Response Services

Program Gap Analysis:
Whether you have an existing program or not, we identify your needs based on ground truthing and real-world experience in your industry.

Program Design:
We help you develop, improve and evolve a sustainable incident response program that your team can deploy, manage and communicate with your employees.

We simulate real-world events that exhibit how your organization actually responds to an attack in real-time.

Are Your Security Defenses Working?

We understand how a malicious attacker sees your environment, their attack strategy, as well as the information and assets they could access. OnDefend prides itself in the quality of our testing and vulnerability findings. However, these findings are useless unless they are effectively and efficiently remediated as well as having your defensive (blue) team receiving the knowledge they need to defend against similar attacks.

Are you at risk?

1.5 million attacks every year
4,000 attacks every day
3 attacks every minute

Information Security Testing Services

We strengthen our clients’ security posture by testing their defenses, identifying vulnerabilities & providing remediation direction.

Our Testing Services

- Network Penetration Testing
  Simulated attack on your network that verifies whether critical systems can be exploited and sensitive data accessed.

- Attack Simulation Testing
  Simulated attack that quantifies your security effectiveness and ensures that your controls are working as expected.

- Application Security Testing
  Simulated attack on your applications to determine the available attack vectors, risks and results of a successful breach.

- Blue Team Workshops
  We teach your defenders how our testers see your environment so they can better identify and respond to real world attacks.

What We Bring To The Table

- Simple Pricing Strategy
  Quick and painless proposal turnaround in 24 hours within your budget.

- Remote Testing Capability
  Flexible scheduling and deployment of testing assets at your convenience.

- Premium Results
  Value based on reports direction to reduce your risk and improve your security.

- Blue Team Workshops
  Your blue team can see all test attack vectors from our testers point of view.
